

Cincinnati Air Terminal Hit By Fire

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Routed from its offices Sunday by a fire that badly damaged a busy terminal at Greater Cincinnati Airport, the National Weather Service restored operations eight hours later at a downtown location.

The Cincinnati weather bureau set up shop 20 miles away in the Post Office Building.

The fire that killed two airport firemen and caused damages initially estimated at $2 million destroyed the weather service's teletype, radar console, observation equipment and other gear.

However, by switching to emergency backup, "there was never really a break in the forecast and warning responsibilities for the city," said John Robinson, meteorologist in charge of the Cincinnati office.

The Cleveland weather service backstopped with forecasting and emergency warning duties and Louisville, Ky., assisted by watching part of the area for the day, Robinson said.

The airport weather radar which scans the area for storm fronts and tornadoes was knocked out by the fire, but Wright-Patterson Air Force Base widened its radar surveillance to include Cincinnati.

The 17-man Cincinnati bureau will keep one person at the airport 24 hours a day to handle weather condition reports for aviation. The others will work out of the Post Office Building.

Some weather records were lost, but Robinson said they are replaceable through microfilm kept in Asheville, N.C., the weather records center.

When the fire hit early Sunday morning, a 300-member ham radio operators club, Weather Amateur Radio Network (WARN) offered its facilities to the weather service. WARN was organized after the 1974 tornado which ravaged Kentucky and Ohio.

What one airport official called "normally the quietest time of the week" became a time of tragedy Sunday when fire swept through a terminal building of the Greater Cincinnati Airport, killing two airport firemen.

"We never have too many passengers on Sunday because many of the flights have been rescheduled because of the light traffic," said Ted Bushelman, airport community relations director. "All of the offices upstairs were naturally deserted when the fire broke out."

Officials said the fire apparently broke out about 8 a.m. on the second floor of the terminal building which had been opened again last February after extensive renovation, which cost more than $2 million. Airport officials made a preliminary damage estimate of $2 million.

Pilots flying over the airport, located near Florence in northern Kentucky, radioed that they could see flames shooting out of the weather service office, located on the building's second floor. Winds, whipped by a driving rainstorm, made the smoke visible for miles and made firefighting difficult.

The second floor of the terminal was gutted and the passenger concourse suffered extensive water and smoke damage as the result of the blaze. It was contained to one building and

Guerrilla Raid Ignites Israeli, Arab Flareup

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — A 23-year-old Israeli housewife died today of wounds received in an Arab guerrilla attack that also took the lives of her husband and brother and wounded her seven-month-old son and her father. Before she died, the petite brunette told her doctors that her infant son survived only "because I persuaded the terrorists not to shoot him." The baby was wounded by grenade fragments.

Israeli troops killed the four Arab guerrillas who seized the family's farmhouse early Sunday in the village of Kfar Yuval, near the Lebanese borders.

The Israeli military command retaliated with air strikes against the village of Kfar Chuba, "a base for terrorist infiltrators" in southern Lebanon, and Israeli and Arab forces duelled across the frontier with rockets and artillery until dawn today.

The Lebanese Defense Ministry said Israeli air strikes and artillery shelling killed one woman and wounded three other persons. Wafa, the Palestinian news agency, said two successive Israeli air raids "covered the entire Arkoub area" of southern Lebanon, an area with a large population of Palestinian guerrillas. It claimed the guerrillas shot down one Israeli Phantom.

The Israeli command said guerrillas in Lebanon fired Katyusha rockets in a rare daylight attack on the Mediterranean resort area near Nahariya, cutting two Israelis with shrapnel. It said the shelling continued today, and the target was the border hamlet of

Ravenna Lass Named 1976 Miss Ohio

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Susan Kay Banks, the 1976 Miss Ohio, says she plans no changes in her talent presentation when she competes in the Miss America Pageant next fall at Atlantic City, N.J.

The statuesque, brown-eyed brunette sang an aria from La Traviata by Verdi en route to winning the Ohio pageant Saturday night.

Her first comment after being crowned by the outgoing queen, Lorrie Janet Kapsta, was "I am numb."

Later, asked what she liked about herself, she quipped, "My smile, because it took 14 years of orthopedic work."

Miss Banks, 22, entered in the pageant as Miss Warren, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Fred Banks of Ravenna.

She is a graduate of Kent State University with a bachelor's degree in music education and for the past two years has been touring with Fred Waring and the Pennsylvanians.

She stands 5-foot-6, weighs 112 pounds and measures 36-25-36.

Karen Haus, 28, of Chagrin Falls, Miss Northeastern Ohio, was the first runnerup. The 5-foot-9 brunette serves as an alternate and would compete in the Miss America pageant in the event Miss Banks were unable to do so.

Other runnersup were Pamela Dayle Hopton, 21, of Fairfield, Miss Bowling Green State University; Janice Elaine Cooley, 19, of Portsmouth, Miss Miami Valley, and Marva Rae Mosier, 18, of Celina, Miss Southwestern Ohio.

Commissioners Accept Road Name Changes

Shortening of the county road names was the main issue discussed at the meeting of the Pickaway County Commissioners today.

James Pike, Civil Engineer Consultant of Page, Inc., said that the purpose of this is to eliminate the rural route numbers and make it easier to give directions on these roads.

Pike worked with the county engineers and the county commissioners on this project and today proposed some of the new names for the roads.

In opposition to the name for the Ashville-Lockbourne-South Road, Dr. C. W. Cromley, requested that the name be changed to Cromley Road. He said the road was built by the Cromley family around 1900, and was commonly known by that name. Pike recommended that action on the particular road be postponed until there could be further discussion on the change.

The names that were proposed by Pike and accepted by the commissioners are: Circleville-Kingston Road, County Road 9, to Kingston Pike; Circleville-Stoutsville Pike, County Road 40 to Stoutsville Pike; Circleville-Groveport Road, County Road 7, to Walnut Creek Pike; Circleville-Winchester Road, County Road 8, to Winchester Road; Circleville-Westfall Road, County Road 100, to Westfall Road; Circleville-Florence Chapel Road, County Road 6, to Florence Chapel Pike; Circleville-London Road, County Road 3, to London Road and Circleville-Commercial Point Road to Commercial Point Road.

Road names that were proposed and not acted upon are Circleville-Lockbourne Road, North and South, and Circleville-Tarleton-Northern Road because it was misnumbered in the advertisement concerning the name changes.

Weather

Sunny today, high, upper 70s. Fair tonight, low, low 60s. Partly cloudy Tuesday with a chance of showers, high, low 80s. Probability of precipitation, 10 per cent today and tonight and 60 per cent tomorrow. Temperatures Sunday were: high, 82; low, 62.

Metulla, three miles from Kfar Yuval. The command reported no casualties and said Israeli artillery returned the fire.

A spokesman for the Palestine Liberation Organization said it sponsored the raid on Kfar Yuval "because it is our right to fight for our rights." He added that such raids had the support of "the whole world ... because the U.N. General Assembly has approved the right of the Palestinians to pursue their struggle with all means to regain their usurped rights."

The Israelis said the attack was made by four guerrillas who slipped across the Lebanese frontier. They were spotted by armed civilians in Kfar Yuval as they climbed over a fence to get into the village of immigrants from India. The villagers opened fire, and the terrorists fired rifles and rocket grenades in all directions as they seized the house of Yaacov Mordechai.

Mordechai's wife, her father and a brother barricaded themselves in one room with the woman's seven-month-old son, but another brother died trying to block the terrorists as they blasted through the door.

Mordechai, an intercity bus driver, heard of the attack on the radio and rushed back to the village as Israeli troops were organizing the rescue operation.

A combat veteran and a reservist, the bus driver joined the assault force and was killed in a hail of bullets and exploding hand grenades. His wife, baby and father-in-law were wounded along with three other Israelis, and all four terrorists were killed.

The Israeli armed forces radio said one of the terrorists was a Palestinian, and the others were an Iraqi, a Moroccan and a Turk. It said they belonged to the Arab Liberation Front, which is affiliated with the PLO.

The Israeli Foreign Ministry said the terrorist assault was intended to disrupt "diplomatic efforts ... to revive the political momentum" toward peace. The statement also condemned the governments that voted at the U.N. General Assembly last November to recognize the PLO, saying this encouraged "murder and violence."

The latest diplomatic effort toward peace continued in New York with another meeting Sunday between Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

Kissinger said there would have to be "more exchanges between all the parties before we can decide whether a basis for resumption of negotiations exists." He said Rabin's talks with him and President Ford and their recent meeting with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat in Austria "have at least created a basis from which the problem can be considered again."

Rabin said there were still differences between the Egyptian and Israeli positions. "To what extent they can be breached, I think at the present I can't answer."

Communists Hope To Gain Support In Italian Vote

ROME (AP) — The Communist party hoped to strengthen its claim to join the Christian Democrats in a coalition government with gains in regional elections ending today.

Hot, sunny weather drew almost 75 per cent of the 40 million registered voters to the polls Sunday. The voting for regional and municipal administrations ends in the early afternoon, and final results were expected late tonight.

The election was the first major test for the Christian Democrats since their defeat 13 months ago in the referendum that kept the divorce law on the books.

The Communists already control three of the regional legislatures — Tuscany, Umbria and Emilia-Romagna — and hoped to win two more, Liguria and Marche. Youths 18 to 21 were voting for the first time, and this vote was expected to boost the left.

The Communists are Italy's second largest party and have been contending that they are needed in the government to help combat the nation's grave economic crisis.

But Premier Aldo Moro's deflationary fiscal and monetary policies have reduced the rate of inflation from 25 to 20 per cent, and this may have increased support for the Christian Democrats' refusal to join in a coalition with the Communists.

Police said there was no violence at the polls Sunday. But there was excitement in the northern town of Bra, near Turin. Emma Bonino, the 27-year-old head of an illegal abortion advice clinic, came to a voting station and identified herself. The police arrested her on a five-month-old warrant charging her with procuring abortions.

Lucky Bucker Plans To Help His Church

"Our church needs a lot of work and if they'll accept it I'm going to help out," says Roger Kline, Route 2, who won $100,000 in the State Lottery's Lucky Buck drawing last Thursday.

Kline is a member of the Yellowbud United Methodist Church and his mother is very active in church work the community.

Other than that, the Wayne Twp. bachelor farmer has no plans for spending his sudden wealth. He will be presented a $100,000 check Thursday in Cleveland at the weekly drawing.

The first thing he will do will be to seek legal advice on the income tax payment. Kline said he was told by lottery officials that it might be possible to use a 5-year income averaging plan to reduce the tax bite but he could expect probably $25,000 of the check to go to the federal government.

Kline is a regular purchaser of lottery tickets and buys $10 worth each week. He discovered at 12:30 a.m. Friday that he had a winning ticket.

Kline had gone to the races at Scioto Downs and purchased an early edition of the morning Columbus newspaper as he left the track. When he got home he checked his lottery tickets against the numbers printed in the paper, and couldn't believe his good fortune when he saw he had a winner.

"I couldn't sleep the rest of the night," he reports. "And I really didn't settle down until I went to Columbus Friday morning and had the ticket confirmed."

The Columbus area lottery office is located at 261 S. Third St. on the third floor. Kline noted, with a trace of humor, that the Internal Revenue Service office is on the first floor of the building.

ROGER KLINE

What do you do when you strike it rich? Kline went home to the hayfield and started mowing hay.

He farmed about 1,500 acres with his father, George, and younger brother Kris. They have a diversified agriculture operation, raising corn, soybeans, and small grain crops, and feed hogs and cattle as well.

A native of Wayne Twp. Kline is a 1960 graduate of Circleville High School. Although he was always busy at home on the farm, while in high school he found time to compete on the wrestling team, a sport he loved.

Kline was Circleville's 175 pound wrestler during his high school days, but reports he is presently a "heavyweight."

Thirty-two and single, he maintains his new-found wealth will not change him one bit.

FLAG DAY CEREMONIES—The second annual Community Flag Day Ceremony was held Saturday on the veranda of the Circleville BPO Elks Lodge. The Elks, Kiwanis, Jaycees, American Legion, VFW, Lions and Rotary participated. The speaker was State Senator Oakley Collins. A sparse crowd was on hand for the ceremony. Circleville Police blocked traffic on North Court between Watt and High Streets for the event. The ceremony included the history of the flag.

Domestic Spying Could Be Legal, Rocky Report Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although the Rockefeller Commission's report outlined a number of "plainly unlawful" domestic activities by the CIA, it also described a variety of circumstances in which domestic spying would be legal and proper.

For instance, the 300-page report released last week stated that the CIA's 20-year program of mail surveillance violated laws which forbid the opening of letters.

However, the commission also stated that "mail cover operations (examining and copying of envelopes only) are legal when carried out in compliance with postal regulations on a limited and selective basis involving matters of national security." The eight-member panel headed by Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller also suggested domestic mail openings might be permitted in time of war.

The commission's views lack the force of law but instead are findings of fact and recommendations about what the CIA should do in the future.

The commission described other circumstances which, in the commission's view, would allow the CIA to utilize such spy techniques as infiltration and surveillance in the United States.

Thus, while the report criticized the agency for infiltrating domestic dissident organizations to determine if the groups were planning any activities against CIA installations, it did not issue a blanket condemnation of such activity.

Instead, it said "the agency should not infiltrate a dissident group for security purposes unless there is a clear danger to agency installations, operations or personnel, and investigative coverage of the threat by the FBI and local law enforcement authorities is inadequate."

The report also leaves the agency broad powers to utilize spy techniques against "persons presently or formerly affiliated with the agency, directly or indirectly."

When investigating such persons for possible violation of agency security rules, "the use of physical surveillance is not unlawful unless it reaches the point of harassment," while electronic eavesdropping is permissible if the agency has "the written approval of the attorney general on the basis of a finding that the national security is involved," the report stated.

The commission suggested that the CIA should not undertake surveillance of persons connected with the agency without first obtaining written approval from the CIA director. Electronic eavesdropping would be better left to the FBI, the commission said.

According to the report, the surveillance of newsmen suspected of receiving classified information is improper under any circumstances, as are domestic breaks, which the commission found 12 instances of.

Another activity which the commission could find no justification for under any circumstances was the administering of LSD to unsuspecting persons, a program which the agency terminated in 1963.

Settlement Ends Masons' Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cement masons were expected to be back on construction jobs around the state today following agreement with the Ohio Contractors Association on a new two-year contract.

The settlement Saturday ended a statewide strike that began June 5.

Charles Rinehart, the association's labor relations director, said the agreement provides for a 50-cent hourly pay raise effective June 15 and another 10-cent boost on Nov. 1.

Similar raises will be provided in 1976, on May 1 and Nov. 1, he said.

The strike had affected a wide range of public and private works in the state and involved projects employing some 25,000 persons, Rinehart said.

Expensive Privilege

Two principles are involved in the disclosure that the average member of Congress is costing the taxpayer—you—nearly $69,000 in free mailing privileges this fiscal year. One is that the cumulative $37 million spent on the franking privilege is a whale of a lot of money.

The other is that when a representative or senator finds it so easy to spend public funds on his own behalf, psychologically it may be more difficult for him to hold down spending in other areas. The free mailing privilege is one of the more abused privileges in Washington.

Its purpose is legitimate enough—to provide lawmakers with the means of responding to constituent mail, making inquiries of other government agencies and the like. But it has mushroomed into, in some cases, mailed canvasses of an entire congressional district and widely mailed newsletters containing personal promotion, especially at election time.

Some members of Congress are careful of their use of the privilege, but the average expenditure indicates many are not.

A Proud Woman

By JIM BISHOP

There was a little house on Fulton Avenue. It was made of lapstraked wood and wore a peaked green roof. All around were truck farms. It was in that house, in 1881, that Mary Murphy of Cork, Ireland, and Jim Bishop, of Enniscorthy, Wexford, had their honeymoon.

Like most of the poor from Europe, the presence of God was the most important being under the roof. Everything good that happened was encapsulated in the phrase, "Thanks be to God." Mary was a slender girl who paid 20 pounds to spend six weeks in the forecabin of a sailing vessel.

Jim was five feet-seven no matter which way he was measured. He got a job firing a furnace at the Eagle Oil Works. He worked from dawn until sundown shoveling bituminous coal. Winter and summer, he wore work pants, heavy shoes and a red flannel undershirt.

He had black wavy hair and sideburns. His manner was mild, which pleased Mary. She left Ireland because there was no place for a young lady. He left because he saw no future working a 30-acre beet farm in Lower Scooby, divided among an assortment of brothers.

Jim Bishop could not dominate his independent Mary, so he persuaded, he coaxed, he flattered. On Saturdays, he invited three or four Irishmen to his home. They smoked white clay pipes and drank whiskey. They told endless frightening tales of the fairies and the little people of Ireland.

Such nights became rare when the babies arrived. The first, John Michael, arrived on October 29th, 1883. Mary took a look at him and asked a neighbor to have him christened at once. "He's a frail wan," she said. "He'll never make old bones."

She was wrong. My father lived to be 85. Then came Thomas the quiet. And after him Jim the Blarney Stone. Followed by Margaret and Mary. Life was unusually serene. It was as though no one could hear the approach of dark clouds.

Big Jim couldn't understand why, at times, he couldn't catch his breath. He had been shoveling coal too long. The little black diamonds coated his lungs. Some nights, when the breath left him and he begged for air on a bed, Mary knelt beside the bed and said her rosary.

There was no other medicine. Sometimes he begged for whiskey. Johnny was roused from bed and given an empty pint bottle. "Go up to Jackson Avenue," his mother said, "and wake Mr. Moriarity and ask him for a pint of loose whiskey. Here's the 50 cents."

He ran. His father drank it in gulps, the whiskey running down the side of his mouth onto the bedclothes. In a few moments, he began to breathe deeply, evenly. "God's will be done," Mary said, and undressed for bed.

In 1895, diphtheria raced through Jersey City. It took the young like a sickle on spring grass. It was Christmas week. The snow was falling fat and lazy on a windless day. Young Jim died. Within a few hours Margaret and Mary were dead.

Merry Christmas. The undertaker placed the bodies in three white caskets. Mary Bishop was stirring a pot of soup. She went inside, looked at each pale face and fell to her knees. "Thy will be done," she said. "If You grant me more children, I will name them after these."

She had two more girls. They too were Margaret and Mary. Her husband's health failed. The doctor said that maybe, just maybe, a year back in Ireland would help him. She saved every five-cent piece to send him home.

He spent a year among his brothers on the farm. But his attitude was melancholy. He returned to the United States. One morning, his older brother Thomas got out of bed and said, "Jim is dead. I saw his shadow on the bedroom wall."

Superstition. Old wives tales. But true. Jim was dead. His wife hurried down the street to the landlord of the little peaked roof house on Fulton Avenue. "My Jim is gone," she said. "I'll be a few days late with the rent. Tell your missus to please pass the word I'm taking in washing."

She was proud. She raised John and Tom, Margaret and Mary herself. When they grew up, she spurned every dollar they tried to give her. She ran a

Dear Editor:

To all the people of Circleville. This is the first year for the girl's softball league in this town. It is hard to get it going.

It takes money for balls, bats and other things required to play. If the people would just take time to come out and watch the girls play, maybe they would be willing to help a little. They are really enjoying themselves. We need a little more money to help. If the people would just send a dollar or so, it would surely help. If you want to help, send your contribution to Sue Moats, 380 Cedar Heights Road.

Mary battled the world until she was 85. She won everything except the last engagement. On a cold January night, she found it difficult to breathe. Her daughter Margaret sent for a priest.

He bent over the old lady with stole and oils. "Now," she demanded, "who would be robbing a young man of his sleep on a night like this?" He said, "Shhh!" She smiled the wise smile. "And what, pray, would I have to confess, I ask you?" She died, chuckling...

Soviets Launch Second Craft Towards Venus

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched its Venera 10 unmanned spacecraft toward Venus today, six days after Venera 9 blasted off on its way to study the cloud-covered planet.

The second launch raised the possibility one of the craft would attempt to land and the other would orbit the planet as an observer.

Moscow radio said Venera 10 was also headed for an October rendezvous with Venus, chasing Venus 9 in another probe of earth's closest planetary neighbor.

The official news agency Tass said: "The flight of the two automatic stations will make it possible to obtain more complete data about ... Venus as well as about physical processes occurring in space."

It said equipment on both spacecraft was functioning normally.

Tass said the Venera 10 spacecraft "is analogous in design and purpose to the Venera 9 station launched on June 8."

The official report did not say whether either spaceship would try a soft landing on the planet's surface.

The last two Soviet Venus probes of 1970 and 1972 dropped instrument packages onto Venus where they briefly transmitted data back to earth.

Western experts in Moscow believe the Soviets will again attempt a landing on Venus followed by more sophisticated tasks of longer duration than with the previous probes.

Former BCI Head Charged In Theft

LONDON, Ohio (AP) — E. Eugene Starrett, 43, who was fired in April from his post as superintendent of the Bureau of Criminal Identification, was arraigned Friday on a felony theft charge.

Madison County Common Pleas Court Judge Robert Nichols scheduled his trial for Aug. 12.

Starrett was indicted by a county grand jury last Wednesday. He is accused of theft in office, but officials would not disclose specifics of the case.

Atty. Gen. William Brown dismissed Starrett last April 25. Starrett had held the post since March 1973.

Amendments Certified

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes received official certification Thursday of his summaries of four proposed constitutional amendments for the November ballot.

Atty. Gen. William J. Brown issued the certifications that the summaries reflected the proposed amendments.

Rhodes filed the amendments with the secretary of state Friday. The petitions are expected to be ready for circulation in two weeks.

"It is essential that we move with great speed to assure that these petitions will be circulated in time for the amendments to be placed on the November ballot," Rhodes said.

Rhodes proposes a $4.6 billion bond package to bring jobs and prosperity to the state, reverse a decline in population and wealth and "make Ohio the finest state in the union."

It includes capital improvements, transportation projects, tax abatements and loans by the state.

Today In History

Today is Wednesday, June 18, the 169th day of 1975. There are 196 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1815, the British defeated Napoleon in the Battle of Waterloo in Belgium, ending the Napoleonic attempt to dominate Europe.

On this date —
In 1778, in the Revolutionary War, colonial forces entered Philadelphia as the British withdrew.

In 1812, the United States declared war against Britain.

In 1896, a Republican National Convention in St. Louis nominated William McKinley for President.

In 1940, in World War 2, the Nazis captured the French port of Cherbourg.

In 1953, Egypt was proclaimed a republic, and Premier Mohammed Naguib became the first president.

In 1958, there was a controversy in Washington about gifts received by President Dwight Eisenhower's executive assistant, Sherman Adams.

Ten years ago: Air Vice Marshal Nguyen Cao Ky assumed office as Premier of South Vietnam and vowed to spur the war against the Viet Cong.

Five years ago: Britain's Conservative party won a surprising victory in a national election.

One year ago: President Richard M. Nixon completed a week-long tour of five Middle East countries and termed it a success under his limited set of objectives.

Today's birthdays: Actor and director Richard Boone is 58 years old. Rock musician Paul McCartney is 33.

Thought for today: It takes a person who is wide awake to make his dreams come true. — Roger Babson, American financial statistician, 1875-1967.

"We've found they work more effectively than the 'slow' signs!"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Can a person with Addison's disease be expected to live a normal life span? My father is 54 and this condition was recently diagnosed.

Mr. E.E., Iowa

Dear Mr. E.:

This complex disease was named after its discoverer more than 100 years ago. Addison's disease is a deficiency in the function of the adrenal gland, one of the most important of the hormone-producing glands of the body.

The gland affects and is affected by hormone secretions of all the other glands in the endocrine system. Because of this interplay, a great many symptoms may be present. To list them would only frighten readers into believing that "I, too, have the exact symptoms."

Elaborate chemical and hormone studies can determine the severity of the condition. Today, through supportive treatment with adrenal hormones, the life expectancy is excellent.

With care and constant supervision, patients with this condition can now live productive lives with only slight restriction of physical activity.

Is it common to take out the appendix during the course of another operation, like the removal of the gall bladder?

Miss H.L., Del.

Dear Miss L.:

This is an accepted procedure that is performed by many surgeons. The purpose in removing the appendix is, of course, to prevent the possibility of appendicitis in the future.

This type of additional surgery is performed only in the absence of any active infection in the gall bladder. When the gall bladder is removed simply because of stones and when no infection is present, the appendix is removed without any complication.

Why are some stitches never removed after an operation?

Mrs. V.K., Maine

Dear Mrs. K.:

Stitches allowed to remain are absorbed by the body. It is possible to coat these stitches in such a way that they are serviceable for a certain period of time. Then they are absorbed.

In some cases, non-absorbable sutures are also left in the wound. These do not cause foreign body reactions.

Stitches of silk, nylon and other synthetics, when used to close a skin wound, are removed when the tissues have healed.

Crimes committed by dangerous criminals out on parole after short prison stints could increase if legislation changing the parole policy for federal prisoners becomes public law.

The 1975 Parole Reorganization Act, passed recently by the House, provides that every federal prisoner has a statutory right to parole at the end of one-third of his sentence unless the proposed Parole Commission finds reasons for denying the parole.

Under H.R. 5727, a federal prisoner would no longer have to prove he is eligible for parole when the proper time arrives; the burden would be on the Commission to either prove that he is not acceptable for release, or let him out. Parole as the "right" of any federal inmate would replace parole as an earned privilege based on one's conduct, rehabilitation and payment of his obligation to society.

I voted against this bill, because I consider this change in federal parole policy to be unwise and dangerous. Convicted criminals already are out on the street sooner than they should be for the safety of society.

If this bill becomes law, the federal courts will become deeply involved in parole actions. Since the prisoner has a right to parole unless the board finds grounds to deny it, the courts will likely be petitioned by every prisoner whose parole is denied. He will claim that the Commission has failed to comply with the criteria of parole in his case.

The bill imposes impossible criteria. If a prisoner has observed prison rules, he will be paroled unless there is "reasonable probability" that he will violate criminal law, or that his release will be "incompatible with the welfare of society."

Either the floodgates will be opened to endless litigation, where release is likely; or all prisoners, no matter how serious their crimes, will be released automatically when one-third of their sentences have been served.

The bill makes it quite clear that a life sentence does not mean a life sentence at all. A federal prisoner serving a life sentence could be paroled after serving only 10 years of that sentence.

Prison is supposed to serve as a means of punishment and correction, as well as rehabilitation. Under this legislation a criminal might not be there long enough for any of the three.

This nation's Vietnamese refugee aid program promises to be the costliest such operation ever — far more so than the Cuban refugee aid program started 13 years ago.

I opposed the President's request for $507 million and the $405 million eventually approved by Congress for this purpose. While I am sympathetic with the refugees and their plight, America was never less prepared to assume this awesome financial burden alone.

Unemployment in this country stands at 9 per cent and could go higher. We face a projected deficit of $60 billion or more, continued inflation, and a tough battle against recession. Our nation could hardly be accused of not helping the people of Indochina. We have for years provided the lion's share of aid. At their request, we sent in American troops, and ultimately sacrificed 50,000 of our finest young men had spent more than $150 billion.

It is time that other nations showed their concern and opened their doors too. It is time the United Nations ceased its rhetoric on humanitarianism and met its responsibility for providing assistance.

I am aware that some may feel that we should take responsibility for these refugees. However, I believe that our own unemployed should come first, and I feel that the American taxpayers are entitled to know something of the magnitude and astronomical cost of this operation.

As a guide, we should consider the costs we have incurred in helping the Cuban refugees. Since the first appropriation of $70 million in 1963, more funds have been appropriated each year to continue this program, now totalling over $1 billion. That represents an expenditure of about $81.7 million annually for each of these years.

After all this time, $40 million is being requested for the coming fiscal year to continue the Cuban refugee program.

The initial request for the Vietnamese refugee operation was over $400 million more than that for the first year of Cuban refugee aid. The distance involved, differences in cultures, language barrier, and economic considerations — all will run the cost of relocating these refugees far higher than the cost we have incurred in helping the Cubans.

'Tecumseh' Premiere Activities Planned

"TECUMSEH!", America's most spectacular outdoor drama, announces the gala premiere of its acclaimed '75 season at 8 p.m., Friday.

A spokesman for the Chillicothe-based drama announced today that Del Black of Chicago, Regional Director of the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration, will be on hand in a ceremony making "TECUMSEH!" an official event of our nation's Bicentennial.

Also at the premiere will be playwright and Pulitzer Prize nominee, Allan W. Eckert, and Broadway's Nicholas G. Rinaldi, director of "TECUMSEH!" '75. Several hundred members of the press have already reserved space to cover the event.

In celebration of the Bicentennial, "TECUMSEH!" has created a spectacle for the summer of '75 unparalleled by any outdoor drama in the United States. A hundred and thirty professional stage personnel and a multi-million dollar theatre complex will make our nation's history live in the Sugarloaf Mountain Amphitheatre near Chillicothe.

Inside Ohio call toll free 1-800-282-2015 for reservations, or write "TECUMSEH!", P.O. Box 73, Chillicothe, Ohio 45601.

Outside Ohio call area code 614-775-4100.

Owens-Illinois Anticipates Increase In Earnings

Owens-Illinois, Inc., expects earnings in the second quarter of 1975 to double those recorded by the company in the first quarter this year, Edwin D. Dodd, president and chief executive officer, said at a meeting of the New York Society of Security Analysts here today.

In the first quarter this year, Owens-Illinois reported earnings of $9,413,000, or 61 cents per common share. Owens-Illinois had earnings of $1.49 a common share in the second quarter of 1974, a record high for any second quarter in the history of the company.

Dodd pointed out to analysts that "in every respect, 1974 was a record year for Owens-Illinois. Earnings were an all-time high of $83.5 million, or $5.74 a common share, even though the company changed from the average cost to the last-in-first-out (LIFO) method of accounting, which reduced earnings by $1.34 a share.

"In the first quarter this year, our earnings generally reflected the decline in economic activity, especially in the United States," Dodd said.

Dodd observed that late in April he had projected that the company's 1975 earnings would approximate the record results of 1974 and that earnings would improve from quarter to quarter. "Assuming the economy has bottomed out and we experience some improvement in business activity in the second half, I see no reason to change that assessment," he said.

"Our return on shareholders' equity has increased over the last three years," Dodd said. "It was 11 per cent in 1974, and our goal is to increase it to 12 to 14 per cent.

"Our record 1974 results were achieved despite less than satisfactory earnings in our glass container operations," Dodd told the analysts. "While profits and profit margins of the Glass Container Division improved, we believe the potential for major gains is still to be realized.

"Within Owens-Illinois we have a great many strengths and a wide variety of products," Dodd said. "But we never lose sight of the fact that we are primarily a packaging company. About 80 per cent of our worldwide sales volume is generated by packages. The other 20 per cent comes from products which take advantage of our technological and manufacturing strengths in glass, paper, plastic, and metal fabrication and our

Film Library On Alcoholism Established

The Central Ohio Regional Council on Alcoholism has established a regional film library to serve residents of Pickaway and seven other central Ohio counties.

The film library will be housed and operated by the Columbus Area Council on Alcoholism at 1706 East Broad Street.

The Columbus Area Council on Alcoholism is a citizens advocacy organization which works to increase public understanding of the nature, prevention and treatment of the illness of alcohol.

In addition to Pickaway the other counties in the region are Union, Delaware, Licking, Fairfield, Franklin, Fayette and Madison.

Several films dealing with occupational alcoholism, teen-age drinking and driving, the hidden drinker and other subjects will be purchased for the regional film library.

The film service will be available to all agencies, organizations and individuals in the region engaged in public or professional education or orientation on the problems of alcohol abuse or alcoholism.

Early Morning Fire Reported

Circleville firemen were called out of bed Sunday morning at 5:15 a.m. to a car fire at 141 E. Union St.

Owner of the car, Bob Gilmore, 126 Pinckney St., suffered a $75 loss to the vehicle.

Firemen determined the fire was caused by a backfire through the carburetor.

NOTICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Pursuant to the Motion of The Dayton Power and Light Company and Order of The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio dated February 20, 1975 in Case No. 73-166-Y, the Company hereby gives notice that on April 17, 1975, it filed with said Commission an Application for approval of Revised Rate Schedules for gas service to reflect the reduced volumes of natural gas available for sale by the Company.

The Application proposes to increase the natural gas revenues of the Company by $4,857,610 annually by increasing the rate steps in all rates by a nominal 0.670¢ per CCF. No other changes in the rate schedules are contemplated under this Application.

The prayer of the Application requests the Commission to authorize and approve the proposed revised Rate Sheets and substitute such sheets for those now in effect and to provide such other relief as may be proper.

A copy of said Application, including a copy of the present and proposed Rate Sheets, may be inspected by any interested party at the office of the Commission, 111 North High Street, Columbus, Ohio, or at any public business office of the Company.

A public hearing on the Company's Application will be held on July 7, 1975 at the offices of the Commission, 111 N. High St., Columbus, Ohio beginning at 9:30 am E.D.S.T.

The form of this Notice has been approved by The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

CORN-OIL SPREAD

Based on a recipe included in an article on cholesterol-lowering diets in the Journal of the American Dietetic Assn.

1-3rd cup nonfat dry milk solids
1/2 cup buttermilk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup corn oil
2 teaspoons distilled white vinegar
In an electric blender at low speed whirl together the dry milk solids, buttermilk and salt until blended; with blender still at low speed whirl in the oil, a tablespoon at a time — by the time all the oil has been added the spread should have the consistency of soft margarine. Stir in vinegar. Cover and chill; keep in refrigerator and use within a week or so. The spread has a sweetish flavor — good with pancakes and toast and jam. Makes 1 1/4 cups.

In an effort to keep society news current, The Herald has established the following policy concerning wedding news:

Wedding forms may be obtained at The Herald from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and until noon on Saturday.

It would be helpful to have the wedding form completed and returned with a picture three days before the wedding.

The Herald will make every effort to publish the story and picture on the next day of publication following the wedding providing the forms and picture are returned before the wedding.

No bridal pictures and stories will be accepted if submitted later than 30 days following the ceremony.

Mrs. Margaret Finch attended her sister as matron of honor. Mr. Randall Smith served as best man to his brother-in-law.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The new Mrs. Kahler is a graduate of Circleville High School, Miami University, and is completing graduate work at Ohio State University. She is employed as a teacher by Columbus Public Schools. Mr. Kahler is a graduate of Westfall High School and Ohio State University, and is employed as an underwriter by Motorists Insurance Company in Columbus.

Following a trip in the southern states, the couple will reside at 1070 Lynwood Ave.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Lima, Ada, Kenton, Columbus, and Ashville.

Clark-Konkle Wedding Plans Are Revealed

MISS ELAINE CLARK

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Clark, Route 1, Williamsport are announcing the approaching marriage of their daughter, Elaine, to Roger Konkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Konkle, Route 1, Circleville.

Miss Clark is a graduate of Westfall High School and employed by Chesrown Oldsmobile Inc., Columbus.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Logan Elm High School and is currently a student at Ohio University. He is employed by the Kroger Co. in Circleville.

The tradition of open church will be observed for the 6:30 p.m., July 5th, ceremony at Williamsport United Methodist Church.

Church Circle Holds Meeting In Service Center

Mrs. Cecil Andrews opened the Thursday evening meeting of Circle 4, Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, with prayer.

Mrs. Eugene Siniff presided at a brief business session held in the Service Center. It was announced the pastor's reception scheduled for Sunday morning has been canceled because of the illness of his wife, Mrs. Eugene Flowers. Mrs. John Reed was asked to send cards to persons who are ill and a flower arrangement was brought to be sent to Mrs. James Pierce who has been in the hospital. The July meeting will be a picnic at the home of Mrs. Siniff, 385 Sunnyview Drive.

Mrs. Turney Ross led devotions using the theme "Carrying Burdens." She read Matthew 11:30, Romans 8:28 and I Corinthians 10:13. She completed the devotions with "A Father's Day Prayer" and leading members in prayer.

Gladys Noggle was program leader with the theme "Mission Starts With People." Prayer was by Mrs. Clarence Merz. Members were asked to write down the first three words coming to their minds when the words mission and missionaries were mentioned. The answers were briefly discussed and Miss Noggle gave additional information on the subject.

Mrs. Reed said the closing prayer and grace for refreshments served by hostesses, Goldie Hill, Mrs. Pierce and Mrs. Alvin Perdion.

Legislative Report

By MYRL SHOEMAKER,
State Representative
88th House District

This week, the House Energy and Environment Committee held several hearings on Sub. S. B. 207, and subsequently, voted that piece of legislation out of committee. The bill is scheduled for a floor vote next week.

The bill, if enacted, would expand the Ohio Development Center into the Ohio Energy and Resource Development Agency. Board membership would be increased from the present 9 members to 15 members, by adding 4 Legislators, a public utilities commissioner and the Chairman of the Energy Emergency Commission.

Besides creating the E.R.D.A., Sub. S. B. 207 would also:

(1.) empower the E.R.D.A. to construct power plants, gasification or fuel refining facilities, or any other facility for the development of or conservation of energy.

(2.) enable the E.R.D.A. to lease or dispose of its facilities to private persons or government agencies and charge them user fees.

(3.) permit the E.R.D.A. to make loans for energy development facilities, to be financed by revenue bonds and notes.

(4.) allow the E.R.D.A. to undertake and make grants for energy development or conservation research and demonstration projects from the General Revenue fund appropriations, federal assistance and other sources of grant money.

(5.) transfer the existing non-energy-related duties of the Ohio Development Center to the Energy and Resource Development Agency.

Sub. S. B. 207 represents a blending of two separate energy proposals, one by Governor Rhodes and the other by Democratic legislators. The major difference between the two versions is that Sub. S. B. 207 incorporates the new energy agency into the already existing Ohio Development Center. The reason for the incorporation rather than the creation of a new, separate government entity is to cut down on the bureaucratic growth.

The legislation proposes that the new Ohio Energy and Resource Development Agency concentrate most of its efforts during the next two to five years on Ohio's energy problem. The other on-going projects previously established by the Ohio Development Center — medical research, industrial productivity and entrepreneurship — would be continued.

While the energy problem has been a major topic of concern during the past few months, legislative action on energy matters has been slight.

The House Energy and Environment Committee should be commended for its insistence on attending to priority issues and for taking action rather than merely dwelling on the realm of conservative speculation and doubt.

The House passed legislation during Wednesday's Floor session, which prohibits wage discrimination and allows lawsuits for double damages if wage discrimination can be proven. H. B. 285, which passed by a vote of 84-11, also bars discrimination based on age in setting up a pay scale. The exemption to this would be in cases where a seniority or merit system would determine wages. H. B. 285 mandates that enforcement authority be given to the Director of Industrial Relations.

Related legislation is scheduled for a floor vote next week. H. B. 286, a more comprehensive bill, forbids discrimination by employers, employment agencies, labor unions, landlords, real estate agents or mortgage brokers. The legislation also bans the asking of age on employment applications. H. B. 286 mandates that enforcement authority be the responsibility of the Ohio Civil Rights Commission.

This week, the senate unanimously passed S.B. 145, the first major probate reform law in Ohio in 40 years. The bill will now come to the House for consideration. The main purpose of the legislation is to speed up the lengthy litigation process involved with inheritance wills, and to cut down on the expense of the attorney fees.

On Thursday, the House Judiciary Committee held its first hearings on H.B. 733, a bill which would change the procedure of credit reporting and which would prohibit credit agencies from gathering information on a consumer without his written consent.

H.B. 733 is an attempt by the legislature to give Ohio its own version of the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act. Advocates of the bill feel that this corrective legislation is necessary, due to the fact that federal law has not been effective in correcting certain credit reports.

The House anticipates a floor vote on H.B. 682, the Malpractice Bill, sometime next week. Senate action on H.B. 155, the Budget, is also expected next week. Meanwhile, Sub. S. B. 170, the School Foundation Formula Bill, remains in the House Finance Committee. The last scheduled hearing on the bill was Thursday, June 12th. A stalemate has been reached and further consideration on Sub. S. B. 170 is not anticipated until concrete facts can be obtained on second and third year costs. Caution is commendable since this Equal Yield Formula will have a definite impact on every eligible school district in Ohio. But, hopefully, the state of legislative uncertainty will be short-lived, and this Legislature will move Ohio's method of school financing out of its present fiscal limbo.

Area Girls
Attend 29th
Girls' State

Eight area girls departed from their homes Friday to attend the 29th annual session of Buckeye Girls' State at Capital University.

Attending from Circleville High School are Molly Jo Hamrick, 420 Glenmont Court, and Dianne Lyn Green, 260 Lewis Road.

Four girls from Teays Valley High School were selected to attend the session. They are Janet Sue Cline, Gwendolyn Marie Myers, Tammy Sue Shields and Linda Ann Leatherwood, all of Ashville.

Logan Elm High School representatives are Judith Ann List, Route 1, and Barbara Jane Bolender, Route 4.

This year's activities will conclude next Sunday.

Ruppert Trial
Starts Today

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — After undergoing a battery of psychological examinations into his mental condition, James Ruppert is scheduled to go on trial today before a three-judge panel on charges of aggravated murder in the Easter Sunday shooting deaths of 11 members of his family.

Ruppert was arrested hours after police arrived at the Minor Avenue home March 30 and found his mother Charity Ruppert, his brother, his sister-in-law and eight nieces and nephews all shot to death.

Two series of tests have been ordered since the arrest of the 41-year-old unemployed draftsman. Butler County Judge Fred Cramer, one of three judges slated to hear the Ruppert case in common pleas court, ordered the tests after Ruppert pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity to 11 counts of aggravated murder.

Cramer ruled that Ruppert was competent to stand trial on the basis of testimony of two psychiatrists and a psychologist.

Dr. Howard Sokolov, a Cincinnati psychiatrist, said Ruppert demonstrates symptoms of a present mental illness he described as a "paranoid, psychotic state," one of the symptoms of which is a "departure from reality in terms of thinking and behavior."

Cramer also ordered two psychiatrists to determine Ruppert's mental condition at the time of the offenses for which he is charged.

That report, which has not been released, cannot be submitted as evidence, but has been distributed to both attorneys for use in cross examining the psychiatrists.

So far, the prosecution has subpoenaed 26 witnesses, and also some financial records of the defendant.

The defense had not subpoenaed any witnesses as of Friday.

After opening statements by both sides, the court will view the residence at 635 Minor Ave. where Ruppert resided with his mother and where the shootings occurred.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Showing Skin A Nudist's Birthright

DEAR ABBY: Our son is divorcing his wife (who is very dear to us) to marry the woman with whom he has been having an open affair for the last six months. This situation has caused irreparable damage to our relationship with him. I'm sure we'll never be on completely good terms again.

What concerns me now is how to treat this new woman. At the moment, I fell extremely bitter toward her, but I know that if I don't eventually give her at least token acceptance, we will alienate our son completely. While I don't want that, I feel that by welcoming this new daughter-in-law into our family, I will in effect be condoning the illicit affair and completely ignoring all the pain and anguish it has caused our present daughter-in-law, her parents and us. To me, this would be hypocritical.

I've talked to our minister, a counselor and family. No one has an answer. Do you?

WITHOUT MY NAME

DEAR WITH: Your choice is clear. If you reject your son's new wife, you lose your son. The obvious alternative is to accept her. What your friends and relatives will think is not as important as maintaining at least a cordial relationship with your son and his new wife, since that is what you want. Understandably, it will be less than loving, but give it time. As the French say, "To understand everything is to forgive everything."

DEAR ABBY: How do you feel about nudists colonies?

CURIOUS IN COVINGTON

DEAR CURIOUS: If the good Lord had intended for man to walk around naked, he would have been born that way.

DEAR ABBY: Today in the supermarket I was trying to be friendly to a child, and I said, "My, but your a nice little girl."

The child became angry and said, "I'm not a GIRL-I'm a BOY!" Abby, how was I to know? He had long blonde hair practically to his shoulders. Now that little girls are wearing trousers, it is terribly confusing.

Only last week I mistook a little girl for a little boy, and you should have heard her mother tell me off!

Abby, when mothers dress both boys and girls in boys' clothing, and let the boys' hair grow long like a girl's, how is one to tell the difference?

PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: It's not easy. But for now, you'd better skip complimenting strange kids until unisex clothing and hairstyles fade from fashion.

Cable Addition
Set For Amanda

Construction is under way on a major cable addition for growth and service improvement in the Amanda exchange, General Telephone Co. of Ohio announced today.

William D. Anderson, Circleville customer service manager, said the $92,000 project is designed to upgrade existing service and provide for future growth in the area.

The new facilities, which will be located in the north, northeastern and northwest portions of the exchange, will be buried where possible.

"Expansion projects of this size are made according to needs indicated by our studies and forecasts," Anderson said. "This allows us to expand our facilities in an orderly fashion."

The Amanda exchange serves 1,725 telephones in a 95.4-square-mile-area of Fairfield and Hocking counties.

Hot
new source
for gas.

One of the hottest new sources for natural gas is the frozen north.

America badly needs supplies of the clean gas energy available there to help solve the energy crisis.

Columbia has gone to the Arctic to get this gas:

- we're financing drilling programs in Alaska and Canada, including on the far islands of the high Arctic.
- we've gotten the rights to purchase substantial gas reserves already discovered on Alaska's North Slope. Once the Alaskan oil pipeline gets started, a natural gas line can also be built from the North Slope. We can't produce the gas until oil production is underway.
- we're participating in costly environmental and engineering studies on how to build gas lines from the frozen north to consumers in Columbia's service area.

There's much work yet to do, but gas from the far north will be coming along. Columbia Gas is working hard today to meet your energy needs tomorrow.

Natural gas pipelines from the Arctic will be built with proper regard for the area they cross. A study group in which Columbia participates has operated complex test sites and conducted lengthy field studies to examine the impact of a gas line on the land and waterways and the wildlife that inhabit them. These studies are providing the data necessary to meet growing energy needs with minimum disturbance of the environment.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

(Q.) Does the deduction for transportation to get medical help include the cost of the ambulance I used when I had a heart attack?

(A.) Yes. Ambulance hire is a deductible medical expense. Report it with your other medical expenses on Schedule A of Form 1040.

(Q.) When I filed my return for 1974, I wasn't sure I had enough records to support the deductions I claimed. Just what are the record keeping requirements of the IRS?

(A.) Taxpayers are required by law to keep records that will enable them to prepare complete and accurate income tax returns. Although the law doesn't require any special form of records, taxpayers must retain all receipts, canceled checks, and other evidence to prove amounts claimed as deductions. If a taxpayer files a claim for a refund, there must be records to prove overpayments of tax. Furthermore, records that support an item of income or a deduction appearing on a return must be kept until the statute of limitations for the return expires. Usually this is three years from the date the return was due or filed, or two years from the date the tax was paid, whichever occurs later. Additionally, records of transactions relating to the basis of property should be retained as long as they are material in determining the basis of the original or replacement property.

(Q.) Can I deduct the cost of building a garage in my backyard?

(A.) No. Such expenses are not deductible, but the cost of the improvement can be added to the basis of your house, so that it will be taken into account in the event you should sell your home. However, the cost of building a room or business or rental use may be depreciated. For more information, see IRS Publication 30 "Tax Information on Deductions for Homeowners." It's available free from your IRS office.

(Q.) Can condominium owners deduct amounts paid for real estate taxes and mortgage interest?

(A.) Yes. If you itemize deductions on Schedule A of Form 1040, such payments are deductible.

Membership, Money Key AMA Issues

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Delegates to the American Medical Association's annual convention face three major problems this week: malpractice insurance, inadequate membership and a financial crisis.

The AMA's money squeeze has become so tight it has attempted to cut costs by such devices as rationing the use of color illustrations in its publications and by buying lighter weight paper.

The AMA lost $3.5 million in 1974 and faces a $2.6-million deficit for 1975. The leaders are asking the delegates to raise dues from $110 to $250.

A special assessment of $60 per member, approved last November, has produced nearly $7.2 million so far. The money has been used to pay off $3 million which was borrowed to cover losses for 1974, to cover the anticipated 1975 deficit and to finance unbudgeted court challenges to government regulations.

The proposed dues increase would cover current activities, restore some programs that were dropped and allow new programs at $2 million a year for the next few years, the board of trustees told the delegates Sunday.

"This has been a year of anguish for all of us," said Dr. James H. Sammons, executive vice president, in his report to the 124th AMA convention which opened Sunday.

Freeze Imposed On Patrol's Manpower

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — One of the spending restraints adopted by the Senate Finance Committee in approving the state's $10.6 billion budget bill was imposition of a freeze on State Highway Patrol Manpower at 1,371.

The committee was told the patrol's strength currently is between 1,250 and 1,300. Sen. Max H. Dennis, R-10 Wilmington, indicated the freeze was decided on partly as a result of the 55 miles per hour speed limit which has slowed down the state's motorists.

By The Associated Press

Showers and thunderstorms spread rapidly across Ohio Sunday, bringing rainfall amounts from a one-fourth to one-half inch and causing some minor damage.

Some damage was reported around Cambridge as the storms moved through that area. Some tree damage was reported in Pepper Pike and Hunting Valley east of Cleveland.

The front responsible for the showers and thunderstorms moved over the Appalachians this morning and is moving eastward.

High temperatures Sunday were mostly in the 80s, with the range from 76 at Toledo to 87 at Chesapeake.

Another low pressure area was developing in the plains states this morning and is expected to spread cloudiness eastward to Ohio late tonight and Tuesday with a chance of thundershowers Tuesday.

Low temperatures tonight are forecast in the 50s and low 60s, with highs Tuesday in the upper 70s and low 80s.

State Employees Get Pay Hike Delay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee voted to delay certain pay raises to come up with $13.5 million it said was needed to balance the pending $10.6 billion general appropriations.

State employees, already delayed from July 1 to Oct. 1 in the House bill, now face a longer wait—until Jan. 1—under the bill's provisions. Classified employees at state universities will receive their increase Dec. 1, 1975, instead of next month.

The committee, digging deeper into the state's coffers, also eliminated one weekly pay period from the two-year spending bill, with the funds to be recovered later, for employees of the adjutant general's office and the Liquor Control Commission. The House adopted a similar provision for other state employees last month.

Savings by the Senate in this category were estimated at $772,000 for the adjutant general's office and $907,000 for the liquor commission.

Dr. Kirk Recognized For Continuing Work

Michael J. Kirk, M.D. has fulfilled the requirements for the Physicians' Recognition Award in Continuing Medical Education. The award is given by the American Medical Association to physicians who earn at least 150 hours within a three-year period. Kirk has earned 248½ hours from Oct. 12, 1971 through July 12, 1974.

MICHAEL J. KIRK M.D.

He has attended various seminars and workshops in pediatrics, heart disease, electrocardiography, endocrine diseases, diabetes, infectious diseases, tuberculosis, emergency care and a review of ear, nose and throat.

The AMA advised Dr. Kirk that since his award is based on the three-year qualifying period, it is only valid for three years. Thus, the validation of the 1974 award extends through June 30, 1977.

Dr. Kirk is a member of the medical staff at Berger Hospital and has a

State Budget Bill Mostly Democratic

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Minority Republicans succeeded in getting only a handful of their amendments adopted as the Senate Finance Committee recommended the $10.6 billion state budget bill for passage.

One substantive change the committee approved was one by Budget and Management Director Howard L. Collier to bring the state Lottery Commission under closer bookkeeping scrutiny. It would be treated in the future "like any other state agency. It has been too independent," said Barry Keefe, a spokesman for Collier's office.

Rejected Republican amendments would have restored $16 million to the budget of the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, $3.8 million to the Department of Taxation, $7 million to the Department of Natural Resources, and $14 million to the Department of Rehabilitation and Corrections.

Sen. Paul E. Gillmor, R-2 Port Clinton, and others proposed that the funds be taken from a $258 million welfare increase voted by the House. Republicans also proposed cuts in welfare amounting to $95 million, but were voted down 8-3 along party lines.

Outdoor Dramas Survive Budget Cut

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Historical Society's popular outdoor dramas, "Tecumseh" and "Trumpet in the Land" survived budget cuts Friday by the state Senate Finance Committee.

In fact, the panel adopted an amendment providing the society with $250,000 to assure continuation of the popular tourist attractions.

Sen. Robert T. Secrest, D-20 Cambridge, won approval of another $250,000 allocation for the society to use in the preservation of the records of Ohio's local governments.

When replacement parts for the Model T Ford went on the market in the early '20s, a muffler cost just 25 cents and a brand new fender $2.50.

Rhodes' Appointees Await Confirmation In Big Hassle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Eighty-nine appointees of Gov. James A. Rhodes await confirmation by the Ohio Senate, the basis for a top-notch political hassle.

Rhodes is Republican. The legislature is controlled by Democrats. Although Rhodes has not openly criticized the Democratic leadership, the unconfirmed aides of the GOP governor say they are becoming more and more impatient.

Top Democrats in the upper chamber, including Sen. Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Northfield, Senate president pro tem, have said they find no fault with the vast majority of Rhodes' appointments.

Sen. M. Morris Jackson, D-21 Cleveland, assistant president pro tem, remarked recently that one of Rhodes' appointees, Dr. Timothy B. Moritz, mental health director-designee, was an "excellent witness."

He made the statement after Moritz' appearance before the Senate Education and Welfare Committee, which the Cleveland lawmaker chairs.

The committee unanimously recommended that Moritz be confirmed by the full upper chamber.

Democratic leaders, however, have not scheduled a vote on the governor's appointments.

Jackson said Moritz' confirmation "is up to the Rules Committee."

The Rules Committee, headed by Ocasek, schedules items to be voted on by the full Senate.

Ocasek said the Senate has other things more important to consider than confirmation of appointments, such as major legislation.

One Republican senator charged the Democrats are holding Rhodes' appointees hostage until prolabor legislation has been approved by the General Assembly and has been signed by Rhodes.

The senator said he believed the Democrats by stalling confirmation hope to pressure Rhodes into signing legislation he might otherwise veto.

He noted the assembly is considering bills to boost unemployment and workmen's compensation and to allow public employees to strike, all major pieces of labor-backed legislation.

Another top GOP legislator said Democratic leaders are trying to protect Democratic middle-echelon bureaucrats who remain on the state payroll despite the change in administrations.

As always with political leadership changes, many of the Democrats in office when Rhodes took over were dismissed and the housecleaning dipped well into the middle and below.

Democrats said Rhodes' appointed administrators can still function without formal confirmation. Republicans argue that they can not act with complete freedom and authority if the confirmation is part of a partisan controversy.

Ocasek said he will begin bringing up Rhodes' appointees in a couple of weeks.

Experienced Mann Claims LPGA Victory

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — Carol Mann, the voice of authority, says there's no substitute for experience when you lead a Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament.

"The first time I ever led, I shot 84 the next day," recalled the LPGA president moments after her 35th tour triumph Sunday in the $50,000 Medina Open.

Perhaps Miss Mann was showing compassion for luckless Jo Ann Washam, a winless third-year pro who shot 80 after leading the field Saturday. She finished five shots behind the winner.

Miss Mann, 34, relied on her savvy to master winds gusting to 40 miles per hour. She registered a two-over-par 74 for a 54-hole total of 217, one over par.

While Miss Mann posted a steady round of three birdies, one bogey and one double bogey, three young pros playing in the last threesome behind her, failed to handle the blustery weather.

Besides Miss Washam, Kathy Postlewait slipped to an 80, and rookie Amy Alcott ballooned to 82.

Their demise opened the door for more veterans. Judy Rankin, the first-day leader with a 70, surged to second place with a closing 74 for 219. Sandra Palmer, this year's top money winner with more than $52,000, shot 72 for 220 and third place.

Then came all-time money earner Kathy Whitworth and Muriel Breer at 221. Miss Whitworth had 74 and Mrs. Breer 75.

Miller Warns Rookie Philly Golf Leader

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tom Jenkins held a five-shot lead going into today's 36-hole windup of the $150,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic.

But Johnny Miller had a warning for him:

"There's a lot of golf to be played yet," Miller said. "Tom has a big lead. He could blow it right open. But 36 holes is a lot of golf. Anything could happen."

"I'm not saying that I'm gonna win. But I could win, and I'll be trying to win. I'll be just as aggressive as I can. If I can start putting, I might be able to put some heat on him."

"If I'd been putting decent, just putting average, I'd be where he is now. And my putting is coming around. It's getting better every day."

Jenkins, a non-winner who seems to play his best in this tournament, one-putted 10 times on his way to a six-under-par 65 in Sunday's second round for a 36-hole total of 134, eight under par for two trips over the 6,687-yard Whitmarsh Valley Country Club course.

"I wish we could play 40 tournaments a year here," said Jenkins, who was third as a tour sophomore here last year. He has finished higher only once in his brief career.

"I don't know what it is, but my putting stroke seems to smooth out when I get here," he said.

His stroke was near perfect Sunday. He needed only 26 strokes on the small greens and one-putted six times in a row coming home.

That performance left him well in front of Jim Dent, the runner-up at 139 after a second round 67.

Good News For Slumping Dodgers Changes Quickly

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer

There was some good news and some bad news Sunday for the slumping Los Angeles Dodgers.

The good news was that relief ace Mike Marshall's stuff was "the best it's been since coming back from his injury," according to Manager Walter Alston.

The bad news was that Philadelphia's Greg Luzinski walloped a Marshall fast ball into the right-center field pavilion with one out in the eighth inning, giving the injury-plagued Phillies a 4-3 triumph over the injury-plagued Dodgers.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Cincinnati Reds lost to the Chicago

Cubs 4-3 after completing an 11-3 triumph suspended by darkness on Saturday; the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Atlanta Braves 8-6, the New York Mets blanked the San Diego Padres 6-0, the Houston Astros edged the St. Louis Cardinals 8-7 on Cliff Johnson's pinch grand slam in the ninth inning and the Montreal Expos swept a doubleheader from the San Francisco Giants 2-1 and 5-2.

Luzinski was the second batter to face Marshall, 2-5, and whacked his 13th home run of the season, breaking a tie and sending the Dodgers to their fifth setback in six games, dropping them 3½ games behind Cincinnati in the West Division.

Cubs 4, Reds 3

Bill Madlock drove in three Chicago runs with a double and a single after the Reds had completed their 11-3 victory in Saturday's suspended game. The victory in the regularly scheduled game snapped Chicago's four-game losing streak and ended a four-game winning string by the Reds.

Bill Bonham, who needed ninth-inning relief from Darold Knowles, scattered eight hits and struck out 12 Reds.

Pirates 8, Braves 6

Dave Parker hit a tie-breaking home run off Elias Sosa in the eighth inning after the Braves tied the score with three runs in the seventh, two on Dusty Baker's 12th homer. After Parker's ninth homer of the season, Rennie Stennett singled home an insurance run.

Mets 6, Padres 0

Tom Seaver pitched a threehitter for his 10th victory, fifth in a row and second straight shutout. He also singled a run home in the Mets' five-run ninth against Dave Tomlin and Bill Greif after San Diego starter Brent Strom, just back from the minors, allowed one unearned run in eight innings.

Astros 8, Cardinals 7

Pinch hitter Cliff Johnson greeted reliever Mike Garman with a grand slam home run in the ninth inning following Cesar Cedeno's single and two St. Louis errors. The Cards had broken a tie with three runs in the bottom of the eighth on Luis Melendez' bases-loaded single, a bases-loaded walk to Lou Brock and a sacrifice fly by Willie Davis. Davis and Reggie Smith had earlier homered for the Cards.

Expos 2-5, Giants 1-2

Gary Carter belted a pair of run-scoring doubles and Pepe Mangual homered as the Expos ran their winning streak to five in the nightcap. In the opener, Steve Renko blanked the Giants for seven innings and Dan Warthen put down an eighth-inning San Francisco rally.

Indians Show Why Perry Was Traded In 5-1 Win Over Texas

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Cleveland Manager Frank Robinson says Gaylord Perry's performance Sunday night was a perfect example of why the Indians traded him.

The Indians snapped a seven-game losing streak Sunday night against the man who had been their stopper in happier days, whipping Texas 5-1 in Perry's Ranger mound debut.

Cleveland clubbed Perry for 10 hits and five runs in six innings, prompting Robinson to say: "Gaylord was not different than he has been all year long ... He was getting the ball up That's been one of his problems. That's why we traded him."

The Indians traded Perry Friday to Texas and Robinson said the reason was "He had been giving up a hit an inning and a home run a game. It wasn't because of any personal problems between us."

Robinson added, "We didn't want to beat him any worse than anybody else but I get tired when I read about trades that come back to haunt you."

Young Dennis Eckersley, winning his fourth game against no losses, said, "We wanted to beat Gaylord bad, but now that we have it's kind of sad."

Perry now 6-10 for the season after a 21-13 campaign in 1974, said, "Obviously I was getting the ball up. I know some of the weaknesses of some of the Cleveland batters but they also know you. It was my mistakes that hurt me. You don't get 'em once, you get 'em the next time."

Ranger Manager Billy Martin said, "Gaylord pitched 12 innings the last time he went out and really should have been given an extra day of rest. I'll give him an extra day before I start him again."

Pitching in humid Texas weather, Perry—once known for his spitter—obviously had little of anything on the ball, particularly on his fastball. Singles by Duane Kuiper and Rick Manning, followed by Boog Powell's towering doubled knocked in the only two runs Cleveland needed to stop its longest losing streak of the season.

Kramer Williamson Big Winner At Atomic

Kramer Williamson wins 2nd leg of Ohio All-Star Super Sprint Dirt Championship as Atomic Speedway played host to the finest race cars and drivers that the State of Ohio has ever seen Thursday night.

Williamson from Mechanicsburg, Pa., out-raced the best sprint competition in a 10-state area. Williamson not only picked up first place money but valuable points in the seven track series of the "Ohio All-Star Super Sprint Dirt Championship."

Lynn Paxton of Rock Spring, Pa., led in the early stages with Butch Wilkerson of Scottsburg, Ind., pressing him. Then Williamson moved in for the win followed by Lynn Paxton, Paul Pitzer of Loganville, Pa., the winner of the first leg at Fremont. Then came Bobby Allen, Hanover, Pa.; Butch Wilkerson, Scottsburg, Ind.; Dick Gains, Floyd Knobs, Ind.; Gug Geegan, Clyde, Ohio; Charlie Schwartz, Dayton, Ohio; Harold McGilton, Fremont; Jack Hewitt, Troy; Roger Rager, Mound, Minn.; John Henson, Hurrican, W. North Bombs South Cagers

MARION, Ohio (AP) — The annual all-star high school basketball series is all even at eight games apiece after the North, led by Phil Hubbard of Canton McKinley with 24 points, rolled over the South 109-89 Saturday night. The 6-foot-7 Hubbard hit 10 shots from the field and four free throws as the North led from nearly the start. A layup by Hubbard with 5:11 remaining in the first quarter put the North out front to stay.

After three quarters, the North had built up an 83-62 advantage, but the rebels rallied briefly in the final period to close the gap to 12 points, 91-79, before the North took charge again.

Hubbard was backed up by Truman Clayton of Toledo Scott with 19 points and Fred Balser of Elyria with 16. Gred Cobb of Olmsted added 14 and Fred Davis of Youngstown Boardman 10.

Mick Shoemaker of Paint Valley led the South with 16 points and Jim Paxson of Kettering Alter added 14. Todd Jones of Springfield North scored 11 points and Fred Poole of Columbus Mohawk and Tim Watterman of Springfield Shawnee had 10 apiece.

Both teams hit 49 per cent of their shots from the field. The North controlled the boards 65-51. The South had 36 turnovers, compared with 24 for the North.

Even Madlock Happy To See Reds Depart

CHICAGO (AP) — Bill Madlock has mixed emotions about the Cincinnati Reds leaving town but for the good of the Chicago Cubs, he's glad to see them go.

And as the Reds left for home and a three-game series against the Atlanta Braves, they were angry—especially Manager Sparky Anderson and catcher Johnny Bench.

Anderson and Bench both were thrown out of a 4-3 loss to the Cubs Sunday by Umpire Art Williams.

Anderson was tossed out for arguing when Williams called Madlock safe on an infield hit in the eighth and Bench for blowing his stack when Williams called him out on a close play at first in a spine-tingling ninth-inning in which the Reds all but won the game.

Brent's Prince Storms To Ohio Derby Win

CLEVELAND (AP)—Stormy weather swept over Thistledown race track just in time for Sunday's $100,000 Ohio Derby, and jockey Bennie Feliciano said his mount, Brent's Prince, provided a little stormy weather of his own.

"No, the rain didn't bother me," said the 24-year-old Feliciano, of Lares, Puerto Rico, as he hustled from a post-derby photo session to get ready for his next race. He said he had to fight to hold Brent's Prince back in the early going.

"I held him as well as I could. I saved as much as I could for the end," he said.

"He was trying to run off with me. I had to hold him back."

And the son of 1967 Kentucky Derby winner Proud Clarion needed that little extra at the end as John W. Galbreath's Sylvan Place stormed out of the pack at the final turn to catch him.

Feliciano said he saw Sylvan Place coming, and that was when he touched Brent's Prince with the whip.

"I asked him for a little. — Every time I asked him he gave it."

Sylvan Place, ridden by Marco Castaneda, came even but never passed, and Brent's Prince held on for a photo-finish victory in the 41st running of the Derby.

Canvasser finished third, 1½ lengths behind the leaders.

Marauding maintained a strong challenge in the early going, but couldn't keep up the pace and finished fourth in the mile and one-eighth race.

Brent's Prince, the only Ohio-bred horse among the 11 entrants, picked up $66,780 for owner Mary Classen of Shaker Heights, Ohio.

Malone Success To Influence Draft

NEW YORK (AP)—The unqualified success of Moses Malone as a teenage rookie in the American Basketball Association was expected to have a big influence on the league's draft today.

A year ago, the 6-foot-11 Malone, then only 19 years old, stepped out of Petersburg, Va., High School and directly into the ABA, signing a multi-million dollar contract with the Utah Stars. He was the first high school basketball player ever drafted by the pros.

Malone survived countless pressures — from the press, from fans, from opposing players. He performed far above expectations, even for a youngster with his unlimited potential.

Scheduled to be brought along slowly, Malone became a revelation. He averaged 18.8 points per game, 15th best in the league. He averaged 14.6 rebounds per game, fourth best in the league. He shot 57 per cent from the field, third best in the league. He blocked 128 shots, 10th best in the league. And he played in the mid-season All-Star game.

His performance set a precedent for future prep stars.

Texas Captures Series Crown

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — The great Texas baseball drought is over.

The second-ranked Longhorns captured their third national crown Saturday night by toppling South Carolina 5-1 in the College World Series as Richard Wortham pitched a masterful four-hitter.

But it was Texas' first title in the classic in 25 years.

"We felt that when Southern Cal didn't qualify for the tournament, that we would take it all," said Coach Cliff Gustafson, whose teams had three thirds and a fourth as Southern Cal was reeling off five successive titles from 1970 on.

Texas captured consecutive series crowns in 1949 and 1950 and qualified 15 times thereafter before finally winning another.

New Black Muslim Leader Reveals Secret Asset Total

CHICAGO (AP) — The Black Muslims have assets of at least $46 million, the new leader of the separatist sect said as he broke almost a half-century of secrecy about the group's financial worth.

Both the money and the membership of the Nation of Islam, as the Black Muslims are formally known, have been closely guarded secrets since Elijah Muhammad founded the religious sect during the Depression. The membership is still unknown.

Elijah Muhammad died last Feb. 26.

Lady Rookie Wins Inaugural Tourney

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The newest winner in professional women's bowling ranks is uncertain about her future tournament plans.

Diane Cushman of Cincinnati, plans to take a little time off to relish the victory she scored Saturday in the month-old Ladies Professional Bowlers' Association inaugural tournament.

The daytime manager of a bowling establishment in the Queen City made an auspicious pro debut by winning the $20,000-added event.

She earned the $5,000 firstplace check by upsetting tour veteran Loa Boxberger of Russell, Kan., 224-204.

Mrs. Boxberger received $2,300 for the first time she cashed in three Canton stops.

Penn State will open its 1975 football season at home against Stanford.

His son and successor, Wallace Muhammad, made his first public appearance as the Nation of Islam's supreme minister on Sunday.

In a move aimed at dissolving any doubts about the transition of power from father to son, another powerful Black Muslim leader, Abdul Aleem Farrakin of New York City, told the rally of 20,000 persons:

"We (the Nation of Islam) are continuing the work of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad and are evolving into what he predicted we would."

Wallace Muhammad also told the rally that there was no power struggle within the sect.

Muhammad said the Nation of Islam had reached the stability necessary to make some of its assets known.

He said the group's wealth was a "dream which has become reality."

But he said he wouldn't disclose all of the assets because "there are still some things that you have to keep secret."

He said one success is a multimillion dollar seafood import agreement the Nation of Islam has with several foreign countries. Since the agreement was negotiated 16 months ago, the Nation of Islam has spent about $6.3 million for 26 million pounds of fish and 541,000 cans of sardines which have returned more than $22 million in retail sales, Muhammad said.

Of that $22 million, $7 million was forwarded to the sect's national headquarters in Chicago and the remaining $15 million was distributed among the group's 176 temples throughout the country, he said.

Muhammad also disclosed that the sect's vast real estate holdings include about $14.5 million in Chicago property and about $6.2 million in farmland in several states. He said those figures represent the cash value of the holdings at the time of purchase and do not reflect any increase in value through property improvement programs.

Putters Putt For Big Money

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Divisional play continues today as putters vie for berths in the $300,000 Professional Putters Association World Championship here.

Gerald Knott of Dallas, Tex. and Larry Mason of Fredericksburg, Va. advanced to the quarterfinals Sunday with victories in the Northern Regional playoffs.

Knott defeated fellow Texan Mike Peters of Houston in a sudden death playoff. Mason upset defending world champion Mike Baldoza, in a surprisingly easy match, 4-3.

In amateur putting, Quincy Scarborough, of Fayetteville, N.C., and Doug Spring, of Seattle, Wash., earned the final two berths into the amateur world championship scheduled Thursday. Jerry Wood and Don Cameron, both of Jacksonville, Fla., won slots Saturday.

In Saturday's matches, a pair of North Carolinians, Wilbur Hildebrand of Winston Salem and Bobby Gilmore of Burlington, downed Ed Bozzaco of Alliance, Ohio, and Dan Clark of Phoenix, Ariz., 3 and 2.

Fiber Glass Is Growing

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The use of fiber glass reinforced plastic (FRP) in the marine market is expected to increase to approximately 650 million pounds of laminate by 1980. From 1975 through 1980, an average annual growth rate of 16.7 per cent is anticipated. Playing a major role will be the growth of FRP in traditional wood-and-steel commercial fishing, research and military applications. Fiber-glass laminates already dominate the pleasure boat market.

Asa Morris of St. Louis and Marty Piriano of Syracuse, N.Y., rolled 300 games in the 1975 ABC bowling tournament.

The Air Force football team opens its 1975 season in Little Rock where the Falcons oppose Arkansas on Sept. 13.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR TUESDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Events may place you in conflict with those in authority. Arguments will get you nowhere, however. Be discreet and amiable.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Do not jump to conclusions or leap into action without careful thought. You could get ahead of yourself; perhaps promise more than you can perform.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Control your imagination while you also develop its tremendous potential for furthering your advancement. Don't let random ideas lead you out of bounds.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Other persons may play an important part in day's activities. Much will depend on your reactions. Don't split hairs in matters of minor importance.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Solar influences now give you a sharp, practical outlook on projects in which you are interested. Take advantage of the situation.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Watch your competition carefully. Indications are that some tricky maneuvers may be employed. Alert, however, you can spot them.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): You may be tempted to take an unexpected fling in money matters and, if your judgment is as good as it usually is, it should pay off.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Don't force issues now. The odds are against you and you'll gain more by waiting — and studying situations. But look ahead confidently. Avoid negative thinking.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Do not be impulsive, but neither hold off action because of uncertainty over your abilities. Curb doubts and fears. You DO have ability. Back it with self-confidence.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Be tactful in family circles, all personnel contacts. Recurrence of old hassles are possible if you are not on guard.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): A good day for monetary affairs. You could now make a very sound investment — if carefully thought out beforehand. Avoid speculation, however.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Wait patiently for the results of your efforts. Reward WILL come — perhaps greater than you anticipate. Some new interests in the offing.

YOU BORN TODAY have the mind, and usually the inclination, for intellectual pursuits. You also have a great love of beauty but, unlike many other Geminians, may prefer a business career to an artistic one. If so, you could best succeed at banking, manufacturing or commerce.

Those of this date are also scientifically inclined and could especially excel in chemistry, physics or medicine. A natural fact-finder, you could also shine in the field of research and would make an outstanding detective. Traits to curb: introversion, hypersensitivity, extravagance.

Birthdate of: Ralph Bellamy, stage and screen star.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

EAT A BETTER BREAKFAST

(It makes for a better day!)

Good nutrition starts with the first meal of the day — breakfast. It well may be your most important meal. You have spent about 12 hours without food ... and your body needs "refueling" to provide the energy to carry you through the day.

Watching your calories? Don't skip breakfast. An egg with a slice of toast (be sure the bread is made with enriched or whole grain flour) and a glass of orange juice totals only about 200 calories — and you won't be tempted to snack during the morning.

Use your imagination! Protein provides the long-lasting energy which will help prevent that midday lag. To vary traditional breakfast fare, there's nothing wrong with a hamburger, a grilled cheese, or a peanut butter sandwich. Or, if it strikes your fancy, a pizza!

For a cool refresher on a sizzling morning, try a dish of strawberries (for Vitamin C) topped with milk, yogurt or even ice cream sprinkled with crunchy wheat flakes. Cottage cheese with fruit or tomatoes is nice, too.

Good nutrition — and breakfast — can be fun. And you'll be doing yourself a favor by eating right.

Fresh Fruit — SUMMER SWEETNESS SALE!

Big, luscious, golden ripe beauties filled with sweet, juicy flavor. Buy and serve sliced with thick cream or slice on breakfast cereals for a morning treat. Save at Kroger's price.
